“BLESSED ARE THE LOWLY...”

In today’s Gospel (Luke 13:22-30), Luke reminds us that Jesus was traveling the road to Jerusalem. He was in that process of facing his final test when someone asked, “Are only a few being saved?” The question came right out of a worldview of privilege, assuming that some are chosen and the rest might as well not bother. We can pretty well suppose that the inquirer assumed he was among the saved, because in what follows, Jesus warns against such presumption.

True to form, when asked “how many,” Jesus avoided the numbers game. He focused on the process, not the final score. But then, sounding less like a Good Shepherd than the driver of an outrageously overcrowded bus, Jesus tells folks to strive to push through an entrance so narrow that many won’t be strong enough to make it. That perplexing image leads to some serious questions: What makes that entry so narrow? What kind of strength is necessary to get through? When and why does the door get locked?

Perhaps the challenge of the constrained entry has less to do with the size of the crowd or the individuals than with the size of their egos. The people who can get through seem to be comfortable being out of order; they are the people who don’t understand or don’t care about their place in line. People like that don’t end up jamming the doorway because they are sure that there’s plenty of room and plenty of time. They may even instigate a sing-along or some games while they are waiting to get in. These people have unique strengths that include faith in the bounty of the host-God, the confident hope that breeds patience, and the open-hearted love that engenders an ability to enjoy the company of strangers. They transform waiting in line into the entrée to the banquet itself.

What then about the locked door? It is easy to overlook the fact that after the master of the house has locked the door, Jesus says, “you will stand outside knocking...” In that moment, whoever asked the question is on the hot seat. The teacher suddenly focuses directly on the one who started the conversation, and it’s not a comfortable gaze. The master says, “I do not know where you are from.” Their claim to have eaten and drunk with him and to have heard him teaching in the streets provides no entrance ticket. The master repeats, “I do not know where you are from.”

No one wants to be locked out. Jesus urges us to enter the kingdom through the “narrow gate.” If the key to heaven is love, then we must keep that key close to our hearts. Humility helps. Those who exalt themselves will never be able to squeeze through the humble door that leads to life.

“SCARRED BY STRUGGLE”

S. Joan Chittister, OSB, an internationally acclaimed speaker, will provide a seminar at Chestnut Hill College on Sunday, September 25 from 1:30 – 4:00 p.m. in Sorgenti Arena at the College. The seminar will include her presentation, Q and A, and book signing opportunities.

As we look at our world, our political system, our church, our neighborhoods, our families and our own hearts, we see that we all bear the scars of struggle, past and present. Joan Chittister, OSB is prophetic and someone who speaks boldly from where she stands. Sister Joan is part of the long Benedictine tradition of one who “listens with the ear of the heart.” From that sacred space, Joan will reflect on and share with us the hope that’s born only through enduring the scars and embracing the struggle.

S. Joan is a Benedictine Sister of Erie, PA and is an outspoken advocate of justice, peace and equality – especially for women world-wide – and has been one of America’s visionary spiritual voices for more than 30 years.

JUBILEE YEAR OF MERCY December 8, 2015-November 20, 2016

This Jubilee Year of Mercy and Pope Francis’ ministry have renewed our understanding that the Church’s heart is open wide to all, and the heart of the gospel is God’s mercy. Flooded with God’s mercy, our hearts should overflow as channels bringing to wounded and weary hearts Jesus’ healing mercy. For Jesus warns, our own salvation is not guaranteed by the Liturgy of the Word (“you taught in our streets”) nor by the Eucharist (“we ate and drank in your company”). People far from that banquet, “from the east and the west and from the north and the south... So we should never dare ask what “someone asked Jesus, “Lord, will only a few people be saved?” The crucial question is “Will I be saved?” And Jesus’ answer is another question: “Have you shown mercy to everyone, freely, gladly, no limits, no conditions, no exceptions?”
