A NEW WORLD IS WAITING TO EMERGE

John the Baptist takes center stage in the Second Week of Advent. Matthew portrays him as a prophet's prophet in today's Gospel (Mt. 3:1-12). Although Luke presents him as son of Elizabeth and Zechariah, Matthew has him "appear in the desert as if out of nowhere other than from God's eternal plan. John is as unlike his ordinary contemporaries as Jesus will be like them. Between them they almost depict the contrast between belief in a fearsome, punishing image of God and the shepherd of lost sheep. John knows he is not the centerpiece of his day, but he also knows that he plays a vital role.

John's mission was to gear the people up, to remind them of how all the promises of old assured them that the broken world they knew was neither the will of God nor was it definitive. Relying on his religious traditions, John interpreted his times and preached that God would soon intervene, but the people had to be ready if they were to be a part of what God was about to do in their midst.

John's baptism was the sign of their preparation. It was a proclamation of each one's desire for conversion. John stirred up the hearts of his people, reminding them that the shallowness of their lives and the institutional injustice of their society was sin and therefore both unnecessary and able to be changed. John's mission was to drive home the message that the way things were was not the only possibility, that God had something much better in mind.

This is a hard time of year to proclaim the prophetic message of conversion. It's a tougher sell than is typically intended with "Let's put Christ back in Christmas" campaigns. That's why we need John the Baptist to force us to ask "Is this all there is?" While the conversion message may seem to be a downer in the holidays, it is truly the only way to get at the meaning of the season.

John the Baptist will always seem to be a voice crying out in the wilderness; it is the task of today's prophets to remind others that too much of this world is a wilderness of our own creation, and that is precisely why we can hope for a change. Ultimately, because we believe in God, hope is the message of the day!

THE GLORY OF MUSIC

Dear Friends,

What better time than the holidays to think about the beauty of music surrounding us in our lives and more to the point, in the glory of music in our worship. With Advent now upon us, we have a beautiful season of reflection to contemplate the coming of Christ and His redemption. Through this unique gift of music, may our Advent songs draw us deeper into and towards the Eternal Light of Jesus, Emmanuel, God with us.

During Advent, with thoughts of God dwelling with us, we might consider that music emanates from the very same place in our core where Christ dwells. Through the gift of music, we can open up to the depths within us, touch the heart of God, and soar to the realms of heaven with the songs of the season.

In his essay on Liturgy, Music and the Cosmos, which inspired this article, Pope Emeritus Benedict XVI, expounded on this theme. He stated that three realms exist: the silence of the fish of the sea, the loud cries of the animals of earth, and the song of the birds of heaven. We share in all three, bearing within us, the silence of the depths of the sea, the burden and shout of the earth, and the heights and song of heaven: silence, crying and singing.

He goes on to say that at Mass, in right Liturgy, the liturgy of the communion of the saints, we are restored in this totality, of silence and singing, by opening to the depths and learning to fly like the angels. By lifting up our hearts, we bring the sound buried deep within to sound again. At Mass, we are restored to the depths and the heights, the quiet and the song. We sing with the angels, are silent with the waiting depths of the universe, and thus, Liturgy redeems the earth.

As we await and prepare together, the coming of Christ this Advent Season, let us be mindful of the role music plays in carrying the mysteries of God into our lives. Our sacred song, resonant in the soul, prepares the heart in quiet contemplation, quickens the spirit in joyful anticipation, and sparks the mind with awe and wonder that Our Savior will soon be with us. We'll then sing with the gladness of the heavens as Christ brings us the fullness of his resounding and everlasting joy.

Most sincerely yours,
Jo-Ann Stigliano, Director Music Ministries

TAIZE PRAYER OFFERING

Members of our Spirituality Committee will offer an opportunity to come together for quiet, contemplative prayer this Advent season on Sunday, December 18 at 4:00 p.m. in our Daily Chapel. Taize is a sung and silent participatory prayer service designed to achieve a contemplative stance through music, song and silence. It is a form of prayer used and shared on the prayer experience of the Taize prayer communities begun in France. It is a form of prayer that uses musical refrains which are repeated over and over for the purpose of slowing oneself down to be better able to listen to God's voice from our very depths. Please plan to join us for this unique and lovely prayer opportunity.

SENIOR COMMUNITY GATHERING

The Seniors will gather for their Christmas celebration this year on Friday, December 16 at 12 noon. We will enjoy a luncheon from the ACME at a cost of $10.00 for those of you able to participate. If you have not already registered to join us at our last Gathering, please call Sr. Anne at 610-525-0147, (ext. 234) to let her know you are coming, so we can provide "a place at the table" for you with good food and friends to enjoy. Christmas stories, songs and memories of past Christmases will be enjoyed by all. We are looking forward to celebrating this special time of the year with each other.

PARISH COUNCIL NEWS

ADVENT PRAYER: ENKINDLE OUR HOPE

Emmanuel, Our world waits in darkness
longing for Your light.
In the midst of darkness,
enkindle our hope.

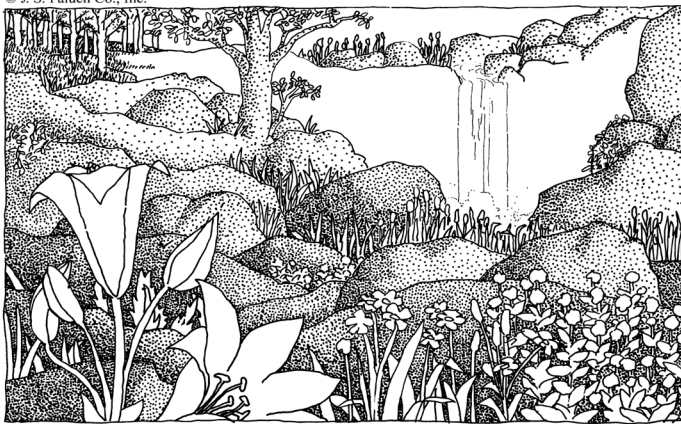

As we long for lasting peace in the midst of war,
As we long for families to be reunited,
As we long for enemies to be reconciled,
As we long for cures and healings,
As we long for decent jobs and economic security,
As we long for love and community,
Be with us.

Fulfill the deepest longings of your people and dispel the darkness in our hearts and in our world.

Let your Word ignite the hope the world needs to bring to life your love and justice. Amen
